A Brownie for the people <3

You might recognise me as the People of Colour Part-Time Officer (POC PTO) for 2025-26, as the Treasurer/Union Rep for Headucate, as a member of the Students for Justice in Palestine Society, as a Volleyball Club member, or as a 3rd year Psychology student.

Since becoming the POC PTO, I have displayed my passion for improving student wellbeing through multiple projects and collaborations (such as the monthly POC crafting socials, LGBT+ History Week, conducting research on student experience and wellbeing, and more), many of which are still under wraps due to the Election Period. From doing so, I am set to fulfill all my manifesto pledges by the end of the year. This role especially demonstrates my capabilities and effectiveness as an Officer, so just imagine what more I can achieve if given a full-time position...

Now that I'm due to graduate, I'm not ready to leave UEA since I have more to give back to the community here than I've had time to. As a psychology student I have a particular interest in student wellbeing as I hope to eventually work in the clinical field supporting mental health. For now, I wish to continue improving and supporting the communities and culture at UEA as a Full-Time Officer for the Student Union.

I pledge to:

- Increase mental health access, awareness, and education - this is something I've already been working on as part of the Headucate society for the past 3 years.
- Continue the success of GoGlobal and be a pillar of support for existing multicultural groups/spaces/societies.
- Conduct further research into how students' identities affect their university experience at UEA. The results will be used by the SU and UEA to improve the student environment. As the POC PTO, I am in the process of conducting research into how Women of Colour are impacted by their intersectional identity at UEA.
- Collaborate with the new POC PTO to ensure the continuation of the monthly POC crafting socials that I began.
- Fundraise for groups that support Equality, Diversity, and Inclusion.

Please vote for me!

Much love,

Anisah <3
