

Candidate for the position of Ethical Issues Officer (PT)

Noosha Yasrebi

Stand for Standards

Hi, I'm Noosha. I'm running to be your Ethical Issues Officer because I believe ethics should feel real and relevant to students, not distant or theoretical.

I've worked closely with students through my role as a Student of Colour Ambassador, where I've seen first-hand how important transparency, representation, and clear communication are in building trust in our community. Ethics shouldn't be about big statements but rather trying to make the system work for the people inside of it.

What do I want to do?

I want to make ethical processes more accessible, and more accountable.

That means:

- Ensuring students understand how decisions are made.
- Making it easier and safer to raise concerns.
- Strengthening transparency around policies that affect us.
- Working collaboratively with student groups to reflect diverse perspectives.

Why vote for me?

Because ethics requires more than strong opinions. It requires active listening and considering different perspectives to ensure that decisions accurately and fairly represent the needs of the students. I will focus on the issues that directly affect students' lives, ensuring our institution is not only principled in theory but fair in practice. My priority is building trust through clarity, accountability, and meaningful engagement. The standards will be upheld and reflected through events, societies and academics.

Ethics should protect students. That is what I will deliver.
